Production This Year Will Be Under the Direction Of Roy K. Marsh, Local Composer - Date Soon

It has just been announced, not intentionally, but it has accidentally slipped from one of the insiders of the big show, that the B. P. O. Elks No. 335 annual show is well under

Every precaution has been used by the committee in charge to keep the dark secret for at least another month, but the annual event is lined up in such a big way that someone who has been watching proceedings carefully couldn't help but let a few words drop that gave it all away.

words drop that gave it all away.

Consequently we called on Fred Myers immediately for confirmation, knowing that Mr. Myers has been the chairman of the show committees for several years past. When Mr. Myers saw that someone had let most of the cats out of the bag he "fessed up" and admitted that all the details had been taken care of and that the cast en taken care of and that the cast had actully started rehearing.

Reports that are available at this time on the B. P. O. Elks annual show ake it very evident that this is to the most tuneful and most jovial show ever concocted by the master minds of Elks. A deep, dark plot has already been threaded through the right spots of the show and the entire cast will prove to be past mas-ters of the stage.

Much New Talent

New names will appear on this year's program, for new talent landed here through accident or necessity is being carefully worked into the greatest musical show that B. P. O. Elks have ever known in this portion on of the musical numbers and the tlon of the musical numbers and the production of the show is entirely under the direction and supervision of Roy K. Marsh, the local composer who has been taking the country by storm with his compositions of the past year. It's not this piece or that one which happens to jump into favor but everyone that is finished by his master hand carries a storm of applause and approval wherever it is roduced.

It might be possible that you are not personally acquainted with Mr. Marsh, so let us introduce him right his minute. Some of this season's maintains its original popu-

includes Late Song Hits

"I Never Knew I Could Love Anybody," the beginning of his famous "I Never Knew" song, has been sung, hummed and whistled by everyone in this country. The Victor people have already featured it on their records and it has even been popularized across the seas, finding its way to the orchestras of England and in French translation. "I Can't Stop Loving You Now," has been played by every band and orchestra in Phoepia and is now being published by a prominent Eastern music house and will be ready for immediate release. "Carabean Sea," which is reported by the music centers to have the greatest possibilities of any popular number that has been written in years, is now being published by Hemick & Company and will be in avery' music house in the United States early in the spring. The publisher writes Mr. Marsh that a young fortune will be spent by his company in introducing the song in every day evening for Safford where she
